Abstract

The Aryan race is guardian of the mysteries of creation, the ideal of man and the Holy Grail. In this paper, we present the lore, legend and metaphysical doctrine of the Aryan race, as we are in the midst of entering a new age, the Aryans once again united to lead the world into a golden age of collective politics and transcendence. This is the hope of the Aryan people.

Since ancient times, the Vedas have foretold of a great time to come in the aftermath of the conflict and war that have ravaged the world for centuries. We are now ready to present our program for a new world order that will lead mankind forward on the path of enlightenment and liberation.

This new order we call White Order, inspired by the clarity, purity and white light of the bright day.

It is our hope that by presenting the lore and legend of the Aryan race and the latest metaphysics and White Order strategy, we will acclimatize the epistemics and the world for a new idealism, while actualizing that the common hope of the Aryan race for salvation and redemption is the collective tantric-romantic transcendence of aufheben – the latter days.

This is the promise of the Vedas – Ultima Thule.

A new hope

When the Aryans invaded, settled and colonized India, we brought the religion of the sky-gods and the sun, the morning sun, the morgenröte and the golden dawn. In the Sanskrit literature, in the Vedas, we find the mythology of the daughters of the morning sun. The worship of the daughters as the muses of the morgenröte and golden dawn was common in the Aryan religion. In Indo-European culture, the name of the goddess of dawn was Hausos, later in the Greek pantheon known as Eos. In the Veda the goddess is referred to as Ushas. Eos is closely associated with another goddess, namely Aphrodite.

The Aryans are blond and red-haired, blue-eyed and white skin. It is therefore natural to associate the morgenröte with the red-haired daughters of the day and the Aryan race-mother, who according to lore is red-haired. Therefore the high value of the red vibe at dawn. Likewise, we associate the golden dawn with the Aryan race-father, who according to lore is golden haired. This association of the aesthetics of the Aryan race and the vibe and colours of the dawn and the day is a common thread in our lore.

In our mythology, we operate with a romantic urzeit, before the colonization of India, when the Aryans ruled the continent and roamed the forest and the seashore of Europe in tranquil peace and transcendence. Life in those days was in close contact with nature, before the introduction of war and civilization. We meditated in large gatherings and practiced Kundalini-yoga. It was a mythical time.

The hope of the Aryan people is a new golden age, where the Aryans are once again united to lead the world forward as the supreme spiritual order of enlightenment and transcendence. We hope to unite the Aryan people and revive the ancient tradition of collective tantra and Kundalini-yoga towards transcendence – aufheben in an Aryan nation-state. This is the ancient dream of the Aryan people, the promise of the Vedas, the metaphysics and wisdom-tradition of the Aryan race, and the hope of the Ultima Thule, the journey of the Aryans towards an Aryan nation-state, collective transcendence and mystical union (Riis-Søndergaard, 2022a).

The Aryans are guardians of the Holy Grail. The reality of eternal spirit, immortal soul and transcendence was a natural knowledge of the ancients, but today, faced with the onslaught of two massive world wars, this idealism and tradition has been met with increased hostility from other ideologies, namely liberalism and communism. The immortality of the Aryan race is our love and the life of our hearts – this is the holy grail.

The tradition was almost forced underground in recent times in the West and only managed to thrive in Eastern and Orthodox settings. Time is now for a revival of the ancient tradition, the Aryan religion and the White Order strategy for world government and rule. Time is now to once again proclaim the North as the homeland territories of the Aryan race and settle the politics on the continent in favor of the White Order strategy of a metapolitics of truth and transcendence – the truth of man and the true constitution, the ideal state – a new idealism (Riis-Søndergaard, 2022b).

The White Order is ready to unite the people of good faith in establishing the Aryan National State and the White Order councils to govern the world according to the true doctrine of man and state – the transcendental truth of the Aryan masterrace.

The Vedas

As war broke out on the continent, we entered a new phase of history, what we call the age of the hero. Where the previous age had been an age of peace, romance and tranquility, the new age saw the introduction of conflict and war. At this time, the Vedas were introduced as the common Aryan vision for the progress of history towards a new golden age and redemption for mankind. Likewise began a world wide program of civilization with the aim of fostering a world order favorable to the White Order strategy of rule according to the eternal truth of the Aryan race and heavens. The Vedas are a divine vision for a new golden age and the regathering of the Aryan people in an Aryan National State. It is the vision that has guided the development of mankind towards spiritual enlightenment and transcendence since ancient times and it is the absolute and supreme metaphysical wisdom of the Aryan race. It is furthermore the codex for yoga, the teachings of the chakras and the Kundalini, as well as the poetics of mystical tantra. Furthermore, the Vedas collect general Aryan lore and legend.

When we speak of White Order strategy, we refer to the Vedas. This is our vision and it foretells equally of a history of love and war in a triumph of the heart. As much as it is a vision, the Vedas are a poetic tale of the truth of the Aryan race, the truth of our love, and the transcendental life of the masterrace as we live our lives in heaven and on earth.

Next to being a poetic tale of the triumph of heart, the Vedas are a tale of the promise of aufheben – the collective transcendence of Aryan race – eternal life. It is the ancient dream of the Aryan people to once again unite our race in a common spiritual life according to the ideal of man and the ideal state and via collective Kundalini-meditiation and -yoga to raise the spiritual energies of world towards transcendence..

According to the Vedas, we are in the latter days. The Vedas foretold of the massive wars on the continent in recent times, but also promised an age of redemption and salvation in the aftermath. This is where we are at. The rest of the story is our journey for Ultima Thule – the mythical homeland of the Aryan people, the hope of a new nation and the transcendence and ascension of the Aryan race.

As Aryans, we live our lives according to the Veda. When we have questions we probe the Vedas for wisdom. We continue to have visions and we continue to tell tales of our great love and faith in a dialectics of the heart. As such, the Vedas continue to thrive and to inspire our people in our common goals, as well as in our daily activities as a nation. The Vedas are solid in foundation, but simultaneously all the time evolving with the latest metaphysics, aesthetics, lore, legend and mysticism.

The life of the Aryan people is inspired and full of prayers, good luck and thanksgiving. That is why we continue to tell tales and express a poetics of a shared heritage and a common fate. The fate of the Aryan people is closely connected to the Veda, since the Veda guides our mission and goals as a race and a nation. That is why, for the Aryan, much time should be spend contemplating and developing the Vedas, as well as the metaphysics, existentiale, aesthetics and ethics that are involved.

When relating to the White Order strategy, we refer to the Veda doctrine and the philosophy that is associated with the ancient Aryan wisdom-school.

The Holy Grail

The legend of the Holy Grail is the tale of love, immortality and eternal youth – the fountain of life.

The grail refers to the secret initiation into the mysteries of blood and spirit – holy blood[1].

The true cause of immortality is the mystical union of the two genders in a dialectics of the heart. In the collective of the Aryan race, this is translated into a race-mysticism of blood and spirit – collective transcendence and heavenly reign.

The eternal spirit is immortal life and the soul, as having part therein, remains immortal.

The two genders are interrelated in a tantric reality of unity and duality in a total holism of spirit, soul and body. This collective unity of the transcendental Aryan race is expressed in the collective power of the Kundalini. The potential of the collective Kundalini is transcendence, aufheben. This is the mystical tantric union and the goal of our collective politics. It is the triumph of the heart. This is the vision of the Aryan people.

The secret of life and creation is the tantric-romantic relationship of two souls, that are forever in love, and all their offspring.

In the Lancelot-Grail, also known as the Vulgate Cycle, Galahad, Bors and Percival achieve the Grail and the achievement of the Grail leads to ascension – this is aufheben – eternal life. This is the heavenly life. The Grail we achieve in the communion of the mystical tantra of the transcendental Aryan masterrace – collective transcendence. This is the hope of the Aryan people, as it is the promise of the Vedas, the tale of the triumph of the heart.

The quest of the Holy Grail is a tale of love and strife. In the triumph of the heart, we defeat the remnant forces of evil that have aggressed against the divine Aryan Nation, and we lead mankind into a new golden age with the gathering of the Aryan people for collective life and meditation. This unfolding of Aryan gathering and tantric-romantic, mystical union is enlightenment of the world and the promise of spiritual transcendence of mankind. It is the purpose of history. It is the unveiling of the truth of being (Heidegger, 1927), as this is the truth of man – the true man. The true man is the philosopher-poet-lover, sovereign-sage, the tantric-romantic partner of eternal spirit and immortal soul – the Aryan.

As we reign in heavens we rule on earth. The goal of the Aryan race is the reconciliation of the worldly and the divine, the transcendental and the immanent. This is accomplished in ascension or aufheben - the fate of our nation.

The legend of the Holy Grail is the accumulated hope of Western civilization for redemption and salvation, but behind the Grail-legend is a truth of holy blood, eternal spirit, immortal soul, tantra, mystical union, race-mysticsim and transcendence. It is the path of the initiate – initiate to the truth of man and the dialectics of the heart. This is the Holy Grail. It is the true man – the Aryan man.

1 The Grail is often associated with the cup of the Last Supper of Christ that was used to gather the blood of Christ on the cross.

The masterrace

As guardians of the Holy Grail, the Aryans have a responsibility to lead mankind forward towards spiritual enlightenment, freedom and transcendence. We are the master-race of history and we reign from the skies. The concept of the masterrace refers to the fact that the Nordic Aryans are a transcendental race, whereas the remaining races and ethnicities all rank at other levels of the natural order of the universe. The Aryan race is the original race of genesis representing true cause and heavenly reign. According to the Aryan genesis, the Aryans are the master-builders of the universe and the other races came to the world later. We have a transcendental notion of conception, where the Aryans are divine incarnations of eternal spirit and immortal soul. Therefore the Aryans reincarnate as we progress towards aufheben – redemption and salvation. We teach the ancient doctrine of the immortality and transmigration of the soul.

As the transcendental race, it is our responsibility to govern and rule – this is divine rule of the holy blood. As such, the Aryans welcome considerations of the legitimacy of the present thrones of Europe in light of the reawakening of the Aryan people for White Order rule. What we fight for is a regime-change that will replace the faltering Neo-liberal world order with the spiritual rule of the enlightened Aryan master-race. We are setting up a worldwide political platform, the Aryan National Party, as well as the regional Alliance-parties and a youth front that will educate the people and the governments of the world and help foster a White Order rule of geopolitics according to the promise of golden age.

The Aryans posses a range of capabilities from the chakras and the Kundalini to clairvoyance and other transcendental and mystical abilities (Riis-Søndergaard, 2022c). The Aryan man is a spiritual being and the purpose of the life of the Aryan is tantric-romantic mystical union and collective transcendence.

For this purpose, we want to setup the Aryan National State as a supranation that will guide and lead the White Order in a golden age of aufheben. It is the hope of the Aryans that we can soon gather anew in the Aryan National State, having overcome the last remnants of evil in the world as is the promise of the Aryan race, as we represent the good day, the White Order and the white way, with no tolerance for evil, hate and aggression. It is the task of White Order to organize and mobilize our forces with the intent to eliminate those last remnants of antagonism that are known as criminal perpetrators of aggression against the Aryan Nation. For this, the White Order is united.

To achieve our goals of eliminating evil, setting up a spiritual world government and establishing the Aryan National State, we need a coordinated effort of the White Order to break open the epistemics and challenge the current Neo-liberal, reductionist regime that is seen as ontological incompatible with the Aryan metaphysics and promise of collective politics. It is time to confront the liberals and communists in a renewed ideological critique and manifestation of legitimate order and rule, as the Aryan master-race represent. The scandal of the 20th ct. was the fact that the ancient tradition and wisdom-schools almost were forced underground due to increased liberal and communist hostility towards the truth of man and towards the true man – the Aryan man.

As the Aryans resurface in the 21st ct., we arrive with a new hope of collective politics and legitimate rule, as well as the promise of aufheben. This is the front of the 21$^{st.}$ ct. philosophy and geopolitics.

Ultima Thule

Ultima Thule is the Aryan Nation and more specifically the Aryan National State – the concept refers to the unification and gathering of the Aryan people in a sovereign nation-state in a new age – a golden age. It is the ancient dream of the Aryans and the promise of the Vedas, as it has been told for ages. In the lore, the term refers to the northernmost point or more precisely to the mythological Aryan homeland in the far north, where from the Aryans are said to have dispersed and colonized the world.

Furthermore, the term refers to aufheben or collective ascension – transcendence and eternal life.

Is is only natural for two people, who love each other, to be and live together and the same holds true for the Aryan race. We are a collective and the hope of the individual Aryan is intrinsically related to the collective life our people and the promise of transcendence. It is the fate of the nation, the destiny of our people and the truth of history.

It is with great hope for unification and gathering that we enter the 21st ct. The massive wars of the 20th ct. are over, and we are wiser on the constraints and ramifications of metapolitics on the continent. We are now ready to reformulate a vision for the 21st ct. that is the path of spiritual enlightenment and collective upheaval.

The Aryan leadership have for some years now developed a new foundation for metaphysics and metapolitics. We publish our writings and will soon be ready to upscale our activities in the political epistemology and epistemic warfare that is the battlefield of modern politics. The first step is to present a viable current of metaphysics, existentiale and metapolitics that can guide the White Order strategy on ontological and existential matters (for metapolitics see: Riis-Søndergaard, 2022d). Next, we want to present an epistemology that is inspired by a renewed phenomenology of spirit and hermeneutics of truth (for reflections on epistemology see: Riis-Søndergaard, 2022e). Together, this refreshed ontology and epistemology we call new idealism.

New idealism is the metaphysical foundation for Aryan philosophy in the 21st ct. The conceptualization of our program is a collective endeavor and the program is guided by the ideal of man and the concept of the true man and the true constitution, the ideal state.

By bringing forward the Aryan lore and legend, as well as the latest Aryan philosophy on metaphysics and existentiale, we hope to inspire our allies in the White Order for renewed engagement with world affairs in our common pursuit for a golden age.

From where we are located, mainly in Denmark, Sweden, Norway and Germany, we see a bright future for mankind. That is why we call our metaphysical and existential program for 'a bright day' to reflect the great hope and vision for a new golden age that is the spiritual enlightenment of mankind (Riis-Søndergaard, 2022f).

It is our hope, that the White Order soon will rise to the front in our collective struggle for historical redemption and ontological truth – the truth of man that is so vital and inspiring. The 21st ct. is a new hope for mankind for realizing this truth, once and for all in a golden age of aufheben. This is the hope – this is the promise.
